Conference Speakers

Byllie Andrews

Byllie received her B.A. in Mathematics, M.A. in School Administration, and Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction. Her 35+ year career as an Educator included many years as a high school math teacher, speech and debate coach, and National Honor Society Advisor as well as high school Assistant Principal and Director of a charter high school for at-risk teenagers. Additionally she taught at UNR in the College of Education and Engineering College. She also taught in the Masters of Education Program at Sierra Nevada College.

Byllie served on the steering committee for the Nevada Women's Lobby for 10 years and chaired Grassroots Lobby Days for three legislative sessions. She has been an AAUW member for 30 years. She was a branch and state AAUW Public Policy Chair, AAUW Nevada President, a member of the AAUW Leadership Corp and is currently on the state board. She has traveled to Cuba and China with AAUW delegations to study the status of women and gender equity in those two countries.

Most recently she has become active in the Historic Reno Preservation Society (HRPS) and served as president of the HRPS board for three years. After eight years of talking about the work that needs to be done with the AAUW archives, her involvement with HRPS offered the impetus to finally take action. As a result several AAUW Reno members are now tackling the numerous AAUW boxes at the Nevada State Historical Society.

Amy Blackwell

Amy Blackwell, BS, MA of Castle Rock, CO, served on the 2011-2015 AAUW Board of Directors and as a 2016 AAUW delegate to the UN Commission on the Status of Women. She will assume office as AAUW Colorado president on July 1 and is chair of the Colorado State Board of LPC Examiners -- one of six mental health regulatory boards. A business owner who provides STEM and healthcare PR, communications, and research services, Blackwell earned degrees in arts, history, and biology at Craven Community College and the University of Houston. An avid hiker and beginning kickboxer, Amy tries to hit a nearby trail after work when she travels for business, which she does extensively.

Julia Brown

Julia T. Brown, Esq., has been Doña Ana County Manager since Dec. 1, 2013. She was selected county manager by a unanimous vote of the Doña Ana County Board of Commissioners after a national search. She has a wealth of experience in both the public and private sectors.

Ms. Brown is a licensed attorney who graduated from Oklahoma State University and the University of Oklahoma College of Law, where she was law class President. She has worked at all levels of government in Oklahoma, Washington, D.C. and California, and in Corporate America. A former Assistant District Attorney and a former Assistant Attorney General in Oklahoma; Julia also served both as an enlisted soldier and an Army Judge Advocate General's Corps (JAG) Officer, Julia retired as a Lieutenant Colonel, and Deputy Commander of the 75th Legal Support Organization.

As County Manager, Brown is the sole direct-report employee of the Doña Ana County Board of Commissioners, and she oversees approximately 850 employees. She coordinates budgetary support for the five elected officials who operate independent departments within the government.

She is the recipient of numerous awards and honors related to her work experience and community and civic volunteer efforts. Ms. Brown's undergraduate degree in political science was earned at Oklahoma State University. Her LLM (Masters) in Military Justice was awarded by the U.S. Army Judge Advocate General's School at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, VA. Julia has done further graduate studies in Public Policy and Public administration at the Maxwell School (Citizenship & Public Affairs) Syracuse University, NY and the L. B. J. School of Public Affairs, University of Texas, Austin. Julia is a life member of AAUW, a Legacy Circle member and served as vice president.

Martha Burk

Martha Burk is a political psychologist and women's issues expert who is co-founder of the Center for Advancement of Public Policy, a research and policy analysis organization in Washington, D.C. She serves as the Money Editor for Ms. Magazine, and is a syndicated newspaper columnist and frequent blogger for Huffington Post. In January 2012 she launched a new national show on public radio, "Equal Time with Martha Burk." Her latest book Your Voice, Your Vote: The Savvy Woman's Guide to Power, Politics, and the Change We Need (2016-18) is a Ms. magazine book selection. The 2008 edition won the NM Book award for best political book of 2008.

Susan L. Burke

In June 2015, the National Law Journal named Susan L. Burke one of the top 75 female attorneys in the nation. Ms. Burke is an experienced litigator with 28 years of experience in federal class and complex litigation, who specializes in bringing federal class action or mass tort lawsuits to reform broken systems or fix societal problems.

Presently, Ms. Burke serves as court-appointed class counsel in litigation involving telephone companies overcharging prison inmates. Ms. Burke also serves as lead MDL counsel in the KBR Burn Pit MDL, pending in federal court in Maryland. In that case, Ms. Burke represents military personnel harmed by Halliburton/KBR's misconduct in Iraq and Afghanistan. Ms. Burke also serves as lead counsel in a series of lawsuits seeking to reform the military's deficiencies in prosecuting rape and sexual assault.

Ms. Burke's past work in American federal courts has had a global impact: As lead counsel for Iraqi victims, Ms. Burke achieved a legal first by negotiating multi-million dollar settlements with defense contractors involved in the Abu Ghraib torture, and with Blackwater, a private mercenary company responsible for the Nisour Square massacre.

Ms. Burke speaks frequently, and presses for change in many forums. Ms. Burke collaborated with filmmakers who produced "The Invisible War," an Academy-award nominated documentary about the lack of justice for military rape victims. Ms. Burke has appeared as a guest on Real Time with Bill Maher, Nightline, CNN Christina Amanpour, PBS NewsHour, and many other television news shows. She has written for The New York Times, the Washington Post, the Philadelphia Daily News, and the Baltimore Sun, as well as other news outlets.

Mary Rita Chapman

Mary Rita has been deeply involved with all 3 years of Tech Trek in New Mexico. This includes roles as Assistant Camp Director, Fundraising and multiple "odd jobs". She is also past president of the Las Cruces branch and Finance Officer for AAUW-New Mexico.

A BS in Math led to working for IBM and other consulting companies implementing computer systems in over 30 different industries.

Joyce Destefanis

Joyce Destefanis is a native Californian and began and ended her 40 + year career in education there. She graduated from University of California in Chico with a BA and received her masters from California State University in San Francisco. Following graduation she taught regular elementary education, and then moved into special education teaching students with learning disabilities, autism, severe emotional disturbance, and severe behavior disorders. The last 25 years of her educational career she served as a Program Manager for Special Education in the San Mateo County Office of Education. In her first administrative position she supervised classes for autism and severe emotional disturbance. Lastly, she managed programs for infant and preschool students with all severely disabling conditions. The Charles and Helen Schwab Learning Foundation employed her as a Learning Disabilities consultant upon retirement from public education.

Joyce is presently Co-President of AAUW Nevada. Upon her move to Nevada in 2000 she immediately became involved and active in the AAUW Reno branch. Never being a member of AAUW in California she found that the welcoming arms of AAUW members eased the move to a new state and community. She will forever be a stanch supporter of AAUW, its mission, goals and its wonderful members. For the last sixteen years she has been very active in AAUW both in the Reno Branch and Nevada State AAUW serving in many leadership positions on the Nevada State Council and on the Reno Branch Leadership Council. She is committed to maintaining and furthering women's rights particularly in this era in which the rights of women are under attack. She is a dedicated political activist for women and girls and will continue this role when her position as president ends this year.

Catherine Hill

Catherine Hill is the vice president for research at the American Association of University Women (AAUW) and an author of AAUW reports including: Barriers and Bias: The Status of Women's Leadership (2016), Solving the Equation: Variables for Women's Success in Engineering and Computing (2015), Women in Community Colleges: Access to Success (2013), Graduating to a Pay Gap: The Earnings of Women and Men One Year after College Graduation (2012), and Why So Few? Women in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (2010). Before coming to AAUW, Hill was a study director at the Institute for Women's Policy Research and an assistant professor in planning and public policy at the University of Virginia. She has a bachelor and master's degree from Cornell University and a Ph.D. in policy development from Rutgers University.

Melissa Cooke Johnsen

Melissa is a member of the AAUW Colorado eNetwork Branch. She was previously a member of the AAUW Lakewood (CO) Branch and the AAUW Kirkwood-Webster Groves (MO) Branch.
